

WEST VIRGINIA IN DOUBT.

BUT THE RETURNS INDICATE A REPUBLICAN PLURALITY.

MONTANA AND WASHINGTON TERRITORIES REPUBLICAN.

DEMOCRATS CONCEDE A SMALL REPUBLICAN MAJORITY IN THE WEST VIRGINIA LEGISLATURE—CALIFORNIA GIVEN UP BY THE DEMOCRATS—INDIANA GIVES HARRISON ABOUT A 600 PLURALITY AND ELECTS THE ENTIRE REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET—HARRISON HAS 12,000 AND HILL 18,000 PLURALITY IN NEW-YORK.

West Virginia is now claimed by both parties. Returns from forty counties show a ratio of gains which, if kept up in the remaining fourteen, will give the State to the Republicans by about 600 plurality. The Democrats concede one majority to the Republicans on joint ballot in the Legislature, and the Republicans claim five majorities. Without West Virginia, Harrison has 233 electoral votes. Montana and Washington Territories have been carried by the Republicans by 5,000 each, the Republican gain in Montana being over 8,000, and in Washington Territory about 7,000. The few additional figures received from this State yesterday changed Harrison's plurality to 12,046, and Hill's to 18,481. The prohibition vote will probably not exceed 29,000. The Democrats give up California, and the Republicans claim from 10,000 to 12,000 plurality. General Harrison's plurality in Indiana appears to be about 4,000, with General Hovey, the Republican candidate for Governor, close to him. The entire Republican State ticket is elected. Cleveland's plurality in Virginia is said to be from 2,500 to 4,000.

The Republican majority remains at 85 to 80. In Illinois, Congressman Baker is defeated by only 17 majority. Congressman Hunter, of the 11th Kentucky, and John M. Langston (Rep.), of the 14th Virginia, charge that they have been counted out by fraud and will make contests.

WEST VIRGINIA CLAIMED BY BOTH PARTIES. REPORTS FROM 40 COUNTIES INDICATE A SMALL REPUBLICAN PLURALITY IN THE STATE—THE LEGISLATURE REPUBLICAN BY FROM 1 TO 5 MAJORITY.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 9.—Forty counties, polling 115,468 votes for President in 1884, show a net Republican gain of 4,046. The remaining fourteen counties, polling 16,689 votes, will at the same ratio of gains give the Republicans a gain of 799, making a total net gain in the State of 4,845, which would give the State to the Republicans by 624 majority.

At 7 o'clock this evening the Democrats admit the Republicans have the Legislature by one majority, giving the Republicans a majority of one in the Senate and claiming a Democratic majority of one in the House. The Republicans claim the Legislature by five on joint ballot. At Democratic headquarters the news of Arkansas (Rep.) in the 1st District and Smith (Rep.) in the 11th is conceded, but it is claimed that the 11th and 14th Districts are in doubt, and that the majority will be very small either way. The Democrats claim the State by 700 on a telegram that Logan County, not heretofore heard from, gives 1,400 Democratic majority.

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 9.—Official information received at the State House says that Fleming (Dem.) is elected Governor by about 900 majority. In every county and precinct the Republicans have gained, and as the matter now stands the Legislature is doubtful. It may be that it will be a tie, with Senator Carr (Greenbacker) having decided vote on joint ballot. The Republicans claim everything and the Democrats are very blue. Pittsburgh, Nov. 9.—A Wheeling dispatch to "The Chronicle Telegraph" says: Goff (Rep.) for Governor has carried the State by a narrow margin, but the Electoral ticket is still in doubt. Atkins (Rep.) has 21 plurality in the 1st Congressional District, and Wilson (Dem.) is elected in the 11th District. The 11th and 14th Districts are still in doubt and claimed by both parties.

REPUBLICANS GAIN TWO TERRITORIES. LARGE DEMOCRATIC MAJORITIES WIPED OUT IN MONTANA AND WASHINGTON TERRITORIES.

Indianapolis, Nov. 9 (Special).—Private dispatches received here state that the Republicans have carried Montana Territory by 5,000 majority. In 1884, the Democrats carried it by 3,718 majority for Delegate to Congress. The Territorial Council and House are Republican.

A GAIN OF OVER 7,000 IN WASHINGTON. Bellingham, Ore., Nov. 9 (Special).—John B. Allen, the Republican candidate for Delegate to Congress, has carried Washington Territory by 5,000 majority. A Republican gain of over 7,000 since 1880. The Legislature is Republican in both Houses.

AN INCREASED REPUBLICAN VOTE IN WYOMING. Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 9.—Joseph M. Carr, Republican, has been re-elected delegate to Congress by about 2,700 majority over Caleb P. Organ (Dem.). This is nearly double any previous majority.

DEMOCRATS GIVE UP CALIFORNIA. THE REPUBLICANS CLAIM FROM 10,000 TO 12,000 PLURALITY—TWO CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICTS CLOSE.

San Francisco, Nov. 9.—With one precinct missing this city gives Harrison (Rep.) 9,322, Cleveland (Dem.) 29,570, Curtis (Am.) 294, Fisk (Proib.) 72, and scattering 14. The Republican State Committee claim the State by 10,000 to 12,000 plurality. The Democratic State Committee concede the State to the Republicans, but with a small plurality. Returns from 1,123 interior precincts out of 1,600 in the State give these figures for President: Harrison (Rep.) 112,678, Cleveland (Dem.) 104,615, Fisk (Proib.) 4,069, Curtis (Am.) 1,659, Harrison's plurality, 7,063. McKenna (Rep.) and Vandewater (Rep.) are undoubtedly re-elected in the 11th and 14th Congressional Districts respectively. There is also little doubt that Morrow (Rep.) is re-elected in the 14th District, as he has now a plurality of 600 with very few precincts to hear from. Biggs (Dem.) has a plurality of nearly 1,200 in the 11th District, and his re-election is considered certain. In the 1st and 14th the contest is very close, but in the 14th (Dem.) is apparently elected by a small plurality. In the 1st District DeHaven (Rep.) has a plurality of nearly 200 over Thompson (Dem.), but there are three counties in the district from which no returns have been received, and eight counties from which returns are only partial. It was at first believed that the entire Democratic ticket in this city had been elected, but later returns show that while Cleveland has a plurality of over 7,000, the Republicans have carried the Sheriff, Tax Collector, County Clerk and District Attorney, and probably one Supervisor and three School Directors.

INDIANA GIVES HARRISON ABOUT 2,500. THE ENTIRE REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET ELECTED—GENERAL HOVEY RUNS CLOSE TO GENERAL HARRISON.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 9.—General returns from all the precincts show that General Harrison carried the city of Indianapolis by a plurality of 156, the vote being: Harrison, 13,328, and Cleveland, 13,170. Blaine carried the city by 625 plurality. Official returns for Marion County, including the city of Indianapolis, give a total vote of 35,112, against 29,205 in 1884. Cleveland has 17,517, Harrison 17,139, Fisk (Pro.) 899 and Streeter (Union Labor) 157. Cleveland's plurality is 876, against 226 for Blaine in 1884.

It is pretty definitely settled that General Harrison's plurality in Indiana will be about 2,500. The reports received by the Associated Press and the Western Union Telegraph Company show 2,000, but it is probable some slight changes will occur when the official returns, as canvassed by the county boards, are completed by the Secretary of State. The official figures will probably not be known for several days yet, as only three counties have been received by the Secretary of State. The Democrats concede, however, that the Republican plurality will be about 4,000.

The entire Republican State ticket is elected, from Governor down to Reporter of the Supreme Court.

For Nervousness. USE HERRICK'S ACID PHOSPHATE. Dr. W. C. HARRISON, Haverhill, Mass., says: "I used it in a case of acute nervousness, during convalescence, the particular symptoms I wished to relieve were depression and nervousness, and the result was all I desired."

It was generally supposed that General Hovey's vote would fall several thousand short of General Harrison's. On the other hand, the returns show that the vote for the Republican State ticket kept very close to the Presidential vote.

EX-MINISTER LANGSTON TO MAKE A CONTEST. Petersburg, Va., Nov. 9 (Special).—John M. Langston says he will contest the election of E. C. Veale (Dem.) from the 14th District. Ex-Congressman James D. Brady, a member of the Republican National Committee, authorizes the following statement: "Notwithstanding the glaring and outrageous frauds in this district, Mr. Langston has been elected and we believe that the certificate will be awarded to him by the State Board of Commissioners. We have the names of Republicans from forty-seven of the 101 precincts in the district, who openly cast their ballots for him, and who will testify to the fact, showing that he carried the district by 2,540 plurality, and the reports from the remaining precincts will increase this plurality to about 5,000. Under the plans put in operation at each voting precinct we have full and complete reports of all frauds and irregularities, and they are of the most astounding character."

WHO WILL SUCCEED REILLY IN THE SENATE? The election of Senator Edward P. Reilly to be County Clerk will make a special election necessary in the 14th Senate District, and the Democratic politicians are already talking about Senator Reilly's successor. The district has previous to the last election been largely carried by the County Democrats, except when Mr. Reilly himself was a candidate. But in the present condition of that organization none of its prominent members has any inclination toward a nomination. Congressman "Tim" Campbell and Alderman Daniel E. Dowling were talked of yesterday for the position, but both declared emphatically that their experiences of Tuesday last were entirely sufficient in the way of running for office, and that nothing could induce them to accept a candidacy of any kind. The names of the district are suggested as follows: either they may pick out for Senator to be elected easily. The names of ex-Senator Thomas F. Grady and ex-Assemblyman Patrick H. Roche are spoken of as candidates for the Tammany nomination. The Governor has from twenty to forty days in which to order a special election after he receives Senator Reilly's resignation.

WHAT THE BROOKLYN FIGURES SHOW. The returns of the election as tabulated at Police Headquarters in Brooklyn on Lieutenant-Governor and Governor are as follows: Harrison, 105,000; Cleveland, 85,000; Jones, 15,270; Ramsey, 8,165; Gray, 17,774; plurality for Gray, 8,000. The plurality for Governor Hill in the towns of Kings County outside of Brooklyn was 517, giving Jones and Gray the same figures. The plurality on the State ticket for Kings County are: Governor, 118,508; Lieutenant-Governor, Jones, 16,587; Judge Court of Appeals, Gray, 9,220. The figures tabulated yesterday in Kings County were: W. H. Hovey, the Republican candidate for County Clerk, 67 plurality.

DICKINSON NOT SO HAPPY AS HE WAS. Don M. Dickinson, the effervescent Post-master-General, who with Mr. Vilas undertook the task of carrying Michigan for the Administration, stopped here on his way to Washington on Thursday night, but continued his journey early yesterday morning. People were astir. Those who saw him say that he looks as though he had been through a Kansas cyclone. Mr. Dickinson has been going to carry his State for the last fifteen years. This time he made the great mistake of his life and the melancholy result is too much for even his sanguine and elastic spirit.

PHILADELPHIA TO HONOR SENATOR QUAY. Philadelphia, Nov. 9 (Special).—The representative Republicans of this city propose to give a dinner in honor of Senator Quay, on his arrival in Philadelphia. The movement, begun last night, has spread like wild fire, and the largest hall in the city would be inadequate to accommodate one-half of those who desire to honor the Senator. The plans for the dinner are as follows: The Academy of Music to both Senator Quay and John W. Wadsworth, in recognition of the work by them in the recent campaign. The general parade of all the Republican political clubs in honor of the victory will take place on Saturday evening, November 17. Upwards of 45,000 men will be in line. The Mayor of this city has issued a proclamation that he will have a group of prominent Republicans gathered this afternoon at the Continental Hotel, among others being John L. Hill, State Senator Penrose and George Handy Smith, State Representative Dearden, Colonel James H. Lambert and Colonel A. Loudon Snowden. At 2:15 o'clock word was received from the National Convention that the Republican ticket had been elected. Word would go directly to Washington, without stopping here. He will visit Philadelphia early next week.

DAKOTA COUNTING HER CHICKENS. Bismarck, Dak., Nov. 9 (Special).—No people are rejoicing more over the election of Harrison and Morton than the Republicans of Dakota, the National Republican party being pledged to the early admission of Dakota as two States. The divisions are: Harrison and Morton, and Cleveland and Jones. The House of Representatives as well as the Presidency has been won. There is no longer a doubt among citizens of the Territory that admission will be granted during 1890. Already the Republicans are discussing the feasibility of holding Territorial conventions, to decide upon a constitution and to present the claims of the Territory for admission. Of course, this is mere talk at present, and may not be done in South Dakota, as the people there have already gone through with this formality. Many are the candidates already spoken of for prospective Congressmen and United States Senators. In South Dakota these representatives were elected two years ago, Gideon C. Moody and Hugh J. Campbell being chosen United States Senators by a Legislature elected under the State Constitution. In North Dakota there are no prominent candidates in the field, but many are mentioned. Everything is now being shaped for Statehood, and when the Territory is admitted into the Union, either as one or two States, she will bring with her an overwhelming Republican majority.

BRICE WANTED TO FIGHT FOR OHIO. Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 9 (Special).—Congressman John A. Bland and Congressman Yoder, of Ohio, who on their way to Washington to-day, were asked to explain Mr. Cleveland's defeat. "We did not have enough votes, but there are a number of reasons to account for the defeat. What these are, I do not care to say," said Bland. Congressman Yoder talked less mysteriously. He said: "Brice did well for our party, but there was too much opposition from other members of the Democratic Convention. Such men as Scott, Gorman and Thurman took ground against his policy in many matters. Thurman was right in his conviction that Ohio would have been carried if the State had been properly looked after. Brice wanted to make a big fight, but other members were against him. Then a member of the committee reported that Indiana was all right, when we should have continued to fight hard."

ADVANCING WAGES OF IRONWORKERS. Sharon, Penn., Nov. 9 (Special).—K. A. Wheeler, operating the West Middlesex Iron furnaces, has ordered a raise of ten cents a day in the wages of the men employed at his works. He gives as his reason the fact that the West Virginia and North Carolina Iron furnaces have advanced their wages, and the assurance of a steady iron market. A general advance is anticipated throughout the Shenandoah Valley in the iron industry.

EVEN VIRGINIA MAY SWING INTO LINE. Chairman Quay, of the Republican National Committee, is still in the city, but expects to go to Washington to-day. He will return in a day or two and remain here until the election in the doubtful States is fully settled. Mr. Quay's attention yesterday was directed toward the South, Virginia and North Carolina. Mr. Quay and Mr. Richardson will insist that the Old Dominion is as safely Republican as West Virginia, and from the tenor of the dispatches which they sent, their claim seems well-founded. North Carolina's big Democratic majority continues to divide and there is every reason to expect that as such a thing as a fair count can be made the old Democratic stronghold will be captured too.

THE REPUBLICAN LEAGUE TO MEET. The official call for the second annual convention of the Republican National League has been issued. It provides that the convention will be held in this city on December 10, but it is probable that the meeting will then only be that of the Executive Committee. The constitution of the organization requires that a convention shall be held once a year, and as the last convention was held in December, it was necessary to issue the call for the next as stated.

TO PAY AN ELECTION BET IN BROOKLYN. Charles B. Holmes, manager of the Lawyers' Collection, Law and Commercial Agency, agreed, it is reported, to loan to a wheelbarrow L. R. Stinson, law book publisher, around the block bounded by Lewis Ave., Broadway, and the East River, in Brooklyn. This will be done this evening at 8 o'clock, starting at Lewis Ave. and Macdon St. The Harrison and Morton Minnie Men and many friends of both men will join in the procession.

INDIANAPOLIS SUBSIDING.

THERE WILL BE A GRAND FINAL TRIUMPH. A DEMONSTRATION TO-DAY.

THE PRESIDENT-ELECT SERENE AMID THE GENERAL HILARITY—A TALK WITH CHAIRMAN HUSTON—SOME CHARACTERISTICS OF GENERAL HARRISON—WHO WILL BE PRIVATE SECRETARY?

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] Indianapolis, Nov. 9.—The noisy jubilation of Hoosier Republicans over Harrison's election subsided somewhat to-day, but the enthusiasts are only taking a much-needed rest preparatory to letting themselves out with renewed vigor when the final jubilation is held to-morrow. From present indications, it will, in the matter of riotous hilarity, surpass all previous demonstrations. Some idea of what may happen is indicated by the information that a wholesale paint dealer has already sold over 100 buckets of red paint for the occasion. Republicans who have contented themselves with riding about the city decorated with flags and bannantins, and blowing all kinds of noise-making instruments. Early this afternoon a tall-ho coach, with about thirty of these hilarious Republicans upon it, drove past the house of the President-elect just as he had started out for his daily walk. They greeted him with what they rather aptly called a Presidential "razzle-dazzle." It was amusing enough to cause him to laugh heartily, as he recognized the party with a bow, and proceeded on his afternoon tramp.

Mrs. Harrison, who makes all the purchases for her household, even to looking after much of her husband's wearing apparel, in town almost daily, and since it has been determined that she will wear the honors of first lady of the land she comes none the less frequently.

There was an increase in the number of callers at the house of the President-elect to-day. A committee of leading business men of Cincinnati came to invite him to a dinner in that city next week, but he informed them that he could not be present. His friends, who have refrained from calling during the week, are beginning to drop in to offer their congratulations upon his victory.

Among them was J. N. Huston, chairman of the State Central Committee, who shares largely in the glory of the victory in this State. In recognition of the fact that he made there will be a great demonstration in honor of Chairman Huston at Connersville, his home, on next Monday. Mr. Huston has been one of the most zealous supporters of General Harrison, and directed the fight for his re-election as United States Senator two years ago.

"After General Harrison's defeat in that contest," Mr. Huston remarked in a conversation to-day, "I said to Mrs. Harrison that I believed that it was decidedly to his advantage, and that in less than two years it would be demonstrated that I was right in my view of the matter. I told her that if he had been elected the office would have been an obstacle to his advancement, because, with Indiana as a doubtful State, it would have been deemed advisable by the party that he should remain in the Senate."

"Was General Harrison apprehensive as to the result of the election?" "General Harrison had the greatest faith, as he often said, in the intelligence and sense of right of the American people. He is thoroughly imbued with the conscientious belief that the protective principle is right and must prevail. He may not have felt entirely at ease regarding Indiana. It is folly to deny that the majority of the voters in Indiana are Democratic; and it is useless to try to conceal the fact that the State will not be Republican until there are more school-houses and churches within its borders. It was a hard fight that was before us. The Democrats were desperate, and were equipped with money as they had never been before. Do you know how we carried the State? It was by appeals to Republicans who were called here for conferences to do their utmost. I explained to them that General Harrison would rather be defeated than elected without the vote of Indiana, and urged upon them the full importance of rescuing the State. General Harrison appeared before them, upon my invitation; and when these men returned to their homes they went to work with greater zeal. They passed the word along the line, and it was State pride that won the victory. I knew the State was close—much closer than I felt that it was advisable to allow anybody to know."

Already there is much speculation here about the probable policy of the President-elect's Administration; and what is of more interest locally, about the men who are expected to be in important relations to the new chief magistrate. General Harrison is probably giving such matters no thought. It is characteristic of him that he never worries about the future, but when the time for action comes he acts. "In his methods and habits," said Colonel W. R. Halliwell to-day, "there will be no difference in Harrison as the President and as lawyer. I have heard him say that he never allowed his business to worry him. He concentrated his faculties upon a case when he took it up; but he gave it no previous thought, and when he left the court-room or his office he dropped all consideration of legal matters."

It is generally understood that General Harrison has never been in the habit of seeking advice from any one, and there are few of his friends who make his confidants. Certainly there is no one who can speak advisedly as to his intentions. His most intimate and confidential friend is his law partner, William Henry Harrison Miller, and next in close friendly relations doubtless is Judge William A. Woods, of the Indiana District Court, who accompanied the General when he went to Middle Bass Island for his vacation last summer. It is believed that if there should be a vacancy in the Supreme Bench during Mr. Harrison's term, it will be filled by the appointment of Judge Woods, who possesses great judicial ability.

The interest here at present seems to centre largely on the question as to who will be the duties of secretary for the General during the campaign. It is understood, however, that Mr. Alexander does not desire the position. In connection with the gossip about the policy of the new Administration, it may be stated that there is full authority for saying that the endorsement of the President-elect to strongly uphold the Civil Service doctrine. A friend of General Harrison quotes him as saying while at Middle Bass Island, in discussing the possibilities of Republican success: "One of the angriest of the election will be the disappointment of my friends." His cabinet is sure to be composed of the greatest available men in the party; and there is some significance in the uncertainty of opinion here that the premier of the Administration will be John Sherman. Of the Indiana men who have preference in recognition, John C. New is believed to be the foremost.

Among the faithfuls received to-day by General Harrison was the following:

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 9.—I congratulate you, not only upon your election, but also upon the conspicuous part you so worthily bore in the canvass. No candidate ever enjoyed more confidence than you have yours since the day you were nominated. J. B. FOULKER.

REPUBLICANS CELEBRATING THE VICTORY. Warsaw, N. Y., Nov. 9 (Special).—The Republicans of this town celebrated to-night the election of Harrison with the greatest satisfaction meeting ever held here.

Fairbairn, N. Y., Nov. 9 (Special).—Banners, brooms, drums, bells, cannon, procession and every conceivable instrument of noise have been used to indicate the popular joy here over Harrison's election. To-morrow a county congratulatory meeting will be held here, with a barbecue and other accompaniments. The Young Men's Republican Club of Plattsburgh, congratulates The Tribune on the grand victory.

Lockport, N. Y., Nov. 9 (Special).—The Republicans of this town celebrated to-night the election of Harrison and Morton with Monday night. A monster parade, fireworks and a grand congratulatory meeting will constitute the programme.

Catskill, N. Y., Nov. 9 (Special).—A grand night celebration Harrison's election. Congressman-elect

John Sanford invested more than $5,000 in fireworks. Several Democratic clubs joined the procession.

QUEER WORK AT DOBBS FERRY. THE SHERIFF ARRESTS A NEGRO AND KEEPS HIM FROM THE POLLS TILL THEY ARE CLOSED.

Some of the Democratic bruisers at Dobbs Ferry are likely to get themselves into trouble for their work on election day, and the chances are that some of them will get into the Federal courts. The prominent and wealthy New-York business men who live there do not take much interest in the election, and the men in medium and small circumstances are left alone in their efforts to preserve the purity of the ballot against the most lawless gang of Democratic bulldozers in the country. The town was Democratic by an extremely small majority, on thirty-one votes, at the last election, and this would not have been the case had not forty colored men been frightened away from the polls by the brutal gang of Democrats who had been employed for that purpose. The colored men have been at work on the question of the election ever since they returned at Dobbs Ferry, where they have been living during that time.

On election day one of the colored men, who from his superior education and powerful build has been recognized as a sort of leader of the colored men, came over with several men to vote. They were not molested, and neither were several others who followed in a group shortly after. But when the third party arrived and offered their votes, the big colored man who escorted them to the polls was set upon by the Sheriff of the town, a Democrat, and arrested for no absolute cause. With the Sheriff were a number of ruffians, among them "Jack" Francis, the owner of one of the lowest dives in the State.

While the Sheriff was forcing his prisoner through the crowd, Francis made several attempts to strike the colored man, who could not defend himself. The ruffian did hit him twice; terrible blows they were, and would have followed him up had not the number of men stepped between him and the Sheriff's prisoner and prevented it. The Sheriff looked on and when a colored man who had been ordered him to bring the colored man before him for examination, he refused to do it and would not release him until the polls had been closed.

A FLOOD OF CONGRATULATIONS FOR MR. MORTON.

Rhinecliff, N. Y., Nov. 9.—Levi P. Morton, Vice-President-elect, is still busy reading congratulatory cable messages and telegrams upon the successful result of the campaign. Among the hundreds that are piled upon his desk are the following:

Please accept hearty congratulations on glorious result. Only dampened by losing Miller, who did so much for the National ticket. S. V. R. CRUGHER.

Heartiest congratulations on your victory, and on the superb victory. Sincere regards to Mrs. Morton. JAMES G. BLAINE.

The National Committee congratulate you and the country upon your election. M. S. QUAY.

Accept heartiest congratulations. J. SLOAT PARSETT.

The declaration of the Empire State is a splendid and a worthy testimonial of her appreciation of her favorite son. PATRICK FORD.

Accept my hearty congratulations upon your election. Michigan gives you 20,000 plurality. RUSSELL A. ALGER.

Congratulations the most sincere to you and the family. I am sure that by the manner in which you will fill it and discharge its duties you will restore the office to its original dignity and rank. JOSEPH H. CHAMBERLAIN.

Telegrams of congratulation have been received also from a great number of Republican organizations.

WHO WILL BE SPEAKER OF THE ASSEMBLY? Fremont Cole, Speaker of the Assembly, arrived in this city from his home at Watkins, Schuyler County, yesterday. Mr. Cole expressed much pleasure over his re-election to the Assembly. It is well known that Governor Hill made a special effort to defeat Mr. Cole; in view of the Assembly's High License and the Reform bill, which the Governor did not desire to receive.

Mr. Cole is a candidate for Speaker of the Assembly which meets in January, and he came here to learn the preferences of the Republican Assemblymen-elect of this city and Brooklyn. Two of the Assemblymen-elect of this city, Robert Ray Hamilton and Ernest H. Crosby, strongly supported Mr. Cole when he was a candidate for the Speakership last January.

Assemblyman James W. Hunter, of Poughkeepsie, who has a law office in this city, was also yesterday making a canvass for the Speakership. Mr. Cole and Mr. Hunter may be said to have begun their contest for the Speakership at the Republican State Convention at Madison Square, New York, in August. The contest will be of an entirely friendly nature.

IRONMAKING CAN NOW BE RESUMED. Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 9 (Special).—The good effect of the protection victory is already manifest in the great mining districts of Ohio. A majority of the blast furnaces in the Hocking Valley were closed shortly after the election. The Cleveland message to Congress in December. About $1,500,000 was invested in these furnaces and this sum has been locked up ever since. Preparations are being made to reopen at once every furnace. At the time of closing the owners declared that they would not run the risk of manufacturing and holding iron while the tariff question was agitated in Congress. They feared that the tariff would be lowered and that they would be left with a large stock of iron on hand.

WHY "BACK NUMBER" RUDD IS HAPPY NOW. "Back Number" Rudd says he must enlarge his storehouse at Ravenswood, L. I., to make room for the files of different publications which he has won in bets on Harrison's election. Mr. Rudd, true to his business interest, staked nothing but files of periodicals of a general character, and he is happy in the possession of the better could not put up with to cover his own. Mr. Rudd admits that he did reluctantly accept money in their place, but the money does not make him nearly so happy as the back numbers. The bet over which he is the happiest is one in which the loser gives him files of six magazines and newspapers, and will participate in the big Republican parade in honor of the victory of Harrison and Morton, on Monday night.

PROHIBITION LOOKED FOR IN MISSOURI. St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 9 (Special).—A political revolution in Missouri is among the probabilities in the next six months. The leaders of the Democratic party in the State have been investigating the causes that buried the party in St. Louis on Tuesday and have reached the conclusion that the saloon men defeated Mayor Francis and the entire local ticket. As the Democrats have twice saved the saloon and brewing interests of the State from the wrath of the rural Democrats and Republicans, the "killing" on Tuesday is put down as the basest treachery. The sentiment of prohibition in the State is now voiced by the Republicans. It has opened war on the saloons and at the coming session of the Legislature the prohibition amendment will be submitted and there is no question about the result. The State will follow Iowa and Kansas. The Democrats propose to go even and they hold the winning hand. The majority of the party in the State are prohibitionists and the majority of the Legislature believe in the same thing. Fifty-four of the 114 counties in the State are now controlled by the "dry" element.

J. H. MANLEY WILL ACCEPT HIS OLD OFFICE. Augusta, Me., Nov. 9 (Special).—J. H. Manley to-day announced to his friends that he should accept the office of postmaster of Augusta, if offered to him, and will not doubt receive the appointment. Mr. Manley was the retiring postmaster four years ago when a Democrat came in, and his return will be a source of much gratification to him, as the new public building which will soon be completed was erected with an appropriation secured largely through his personal efforts. Mr. Manley's resignation gives general satisfaction among Republicans here.

PUTTING A CHECK IN A BALLOT BOX. Rendonatona, N. J., Nov. 9.—Probably the most expensive ballot ever cast in this neighborhood was that deposited by Walter E. Cox, agent for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company at Rendonatona, on Tuesday. Instead of the customary printed slip, he deposited in the ballot box at the village of Columbus a check for $30. He was so full of enthusiasm at the time that he did not mind it, but now he wants the check back. The election officers are teasing him about having to lock the ballots up for a year.

GRAZED WITH ELECTION EXCITEMENT. St. Louis, Nov. 9.—Morrison Renshaw, the manager of George Castleman's campaign in the 11th Congressional District, and Charles D. Brockman, a local dealer, have gone crazy in consequence of the election excitement. Renshaw will recover by careful nursing. Brockman's case is more serious, and he is said to be insane.

THE PRESIDENT-ELECT TO WARNER MILLER. Harkins, N. Y., Nov. 9 (Special).—Warner Miller received the following dispatch to-day:

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 9, 1888. To Hon. Warner Miller: I am greatly grieved at your defeat. If the President-elect will, please send me a copy of the column, inspired by his courage, went on to victory. BENJAMIN HARRISON.

DRY-GOODS MEN MAY MARCH IN WASHINGTON. The big banner of the Harrison and Morton Dry-Goods Club has been decorated with two saluted writers, for they are the best to be had for money. The most distinguished writers in the United States are regular contributors; such names as Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Josiah Allen's Wife, Mary J. Holmes, Rose Terry Cooke, Will Carleton, Robert J. Burdette, Mrs. John Sherwood, Dr. William A. Hammond, Kate Upson Clarke. The illustrations are the best published, and the artists engaged comprise such distinguished names as Frederick Deelman, Wm. St. J. Harper, W. L. Taylor, H. Winthrop Pierce, Augustus B. Merrill, Miss Maud Humphrey, Miss Elizabeth S. Tucker and others.

THE JOURNAL has a larger circulation than any other periodical ever published in this country. The November number is on the news-stands—six cents.

streamers forty feet long and a gigantic rooster in the act of crowing "for all he is worth." It has been decided to keep up this organization, and in all probability the club will take part in the demonstration in the city on the day of the inauguration. In that case the banner will be taken to Washington and hung across Pennsylvania Ave.

CLOSING UP THE CELEBRATIONS. TO HAVE A BIG PARADE IN BROOKLYN—THE W. H. SEWARD CLUB'S PLANS.

There will not be a parade to-day of business men—at least, there will be no organized one. When the young Republican business men, members of the various downtown clubs, who turned out in such large numbers on last Saturday, were in the first flush of the great Republican victory, they decided to turn out again in much larger numbers to show the Democrats of this town just how large a parade Republicans can get up. But when the victory became such a complete one and the first excitement had been gotten over, every one realized that a great amount of time had been lost and money spent on the election and that the victory is large enough to satisfy every one without going any further. The members of the various clubs decided that they had better save time in which to rest than to parade in the parade, and the idea was given up.

Besides a great parade in Brooklyn on Monday evening to celebrate the Republican victory the Young Republican Club proposes to hold a mass meeting in the Rink some evening next week and have Major McKinley to speak. The Republican Campaign Committee in Brooklyn is congratulating itself that enough money was subscribed to pay all the bills and the work of the campaign was done at once closed up. A report of what was done will be made to the Republican General Committee next week.

The Young Republican Club will celebrate the great victory they have so nobly helped to achieve by taking a trip to Western New-York to take part in the unveiling of the Seward statue. The delegation will leave New-York on Wednesday evening. The president of the club, William M. Egan, will be the orator of the day. The statue of Mr. Seward in Madison Square will be decorated and illuminated in the evening, together with the statues of Washington, Lincoln and Lafayette in Union Square.

The members of the Harlem Republican club spent some time yesterday in trimming and filling lanterns, and the statue of the day, the statue of Mr. Seward in Madison Square will be decorated and illuminated in the evening, together with the statues of Washington, Lincoln and Lafayette in Union Square.

THEY WILL RESUME WORK NOW. Amsterdam, N. Y., Nov. 9 (Special).—After an enforced idleness of three months, Sanford & Son's carpet mills, employing 2,000 operatives, will start up next week on full time. The mills were closed a 10 per cent advance in the wages of the employees.

BITS OF DRIFT FROM THE TIDAL WAVE. "You must do something as once; the Irish vote is slipping away from us," said Colonel Brice. As a matter of fact, Colonel Brice was right. No more speeches by Henry W. Gray on the alleged "New South." Orations on the "Lost Cause" are now in order.

Irish-Americans especially regret the defeat of Colonel Brice. "It's a consolation to have companions in misfortune," as "Tim" Campbell said when he referred yesterday to "me and Grover." That solitary Mugwump in the last race in the last car on the elevated railroad, reading "The Evening Post," is perhaps the most melancholy sight of all.

The alleged specimen of Hugh J. Grant's orthography, published in certain newspapers before election, are said to prove beyond doubt that that functionary is now spell-bound.

Democrats curse John Y. McKenna, of Kings County, because Indiana went Republican. The stereotyped line in Madison square made a number of statements that were not in accordance with fact. There was a power in the National canvass which was greater than "boudie's" enthusiasm.

Some Democrats in the service of the United States in this city are now willing to become Republicans. Grover addressed Queen Victoria as "great and good friend." "This correspondence must now close," as the editors say.

It is a condition, Grover, which confronts you, not a theory. That newspaper man who lost $40,000 on Cleveland denies that he is "the greatest living American since the days of Lincoln."

Blitzard Monday may hide its head. Good-by, Blitzard Tuesday and bless you.

At least two other well-known furniture men on the Bowery, who were mad because they did not get the nomination for Mayor, are now glad.

The Hebrew citizens cast their ballots in great measure for Benjamin and Levi.

The President must have seen many green spots on Red Tip during the drive out there from the White House on Wednesday.

Where are the red bannants now?

It is poor consolation, but the best that can be offered, to read in the columns of the New-York Herald, that cholera and cholera morbus caught each thirteen letters.

Mayor Hewitt says that the County Democratic is an "evanescent body." This surely does include "Tom" Costigan.

The tariff is not a tax.

That man who had in hand "Another Life of Grover Cleveland" is not here now.

The prohibitionists are as silent now as Quay was then.
